RE: ACT Training

Situation Assessment

You have requested a proposal to provide a subject matter expert to educate and prepare your employees for union organizing activity. You want employees to understand that union cards are legal documents, that they need to protect their personal information and some of the common misunderstandings employees have about unions.

Proposed Intervention(s)

ACT Training: For this option we will provide a senior LRI consultant to communicate your message directly to employees, to answer their questions accurately and assess your vulnerability during small group meetings.

Objectives

- Train employees on the facts about union cards, common tactics used to get employees to sign cards and the facts to consider before signing a union card;
- Provide a credible subject matter expert who immediately increases your capacity to legally and persuasively respond to potential union organizing activity;
- Assess the organizing union's progress and your vulnerability to determine the level of risk to your direct relationship with employees;
- Prevent NLRB petitions.

Value to Organization

- You substantially reduce your company's vulnerability to union organizing and become a "hard target" by making it difficult for an organizer to get cards signed using typical tactics'
- You will better understand your level of risk and make better decisions about responding to union organizing'
- You will better understand your employees' issues and your opportunities to improve employee relations and retain the direct relationship privilege.

Terms and Conditions

X Option 1: Pat O'Mara will come to your facility for 2 days of training that will consist of: ACT Training, TIPS Training plus review of Campaign Summary for $3,000 per day plus travel expenses.

Option 2: Nancy Jowske will come to your facility for 1 day of training that will consist of ACT Training, TIPS Training plus review of Campaign Summary for $3,000 for the day of training plus mileage and her meals for the day.
